

Martin Schools and Becks: What a team!

By Helen Drake

Good food, a great atmosphere and David Beckham just about sum up the Martin Schools' Summer Fun Day held on Saturday 19 June, raising a record £5,500.

Local businesses

Catrin Dillon, Chair of the PTA commented, "We are overwhelmed by the generosity of the local businesses who, through their sponsorship and donations, significantly boosted the amount we raised."

Food for all

Sharon O'Driscoll and her team of volunteer caterers running the Blue Bird Café and the other refreshment stalls kept everyone well supplied with food all afternoon. "Hell's Kitchen" it was not! But forget Gordon Ramsay, the name on everyone's lips was David Beckham.

Auction

As the much-anticipated auction began, Matthew Girling, professional auctioneer and MC for this part of the day, whipped the crowd into a bidding frenzy. With the two tickets for a Champions League game at Highbury (donated by Arsenal Football club) already bought by one successful bidder, the auction continued apace towards its finale: a Manchester United shirt signed by the man himself, David Beckham. The shirt was kindly donated to the school by a parent. It was one of the last two signed by David Beckham

The Olympic Games

By Diana Cormack

When the Olympic Games begin in Athens this month, they will have returned to the country where they first started. That was way back in 776 BC when a cook called Coroebus, who sprinted the length of the stadium, was the first recorded winner.

The Ancient Greeks thought the games were so important that they measured time by an Olympiad, which is the four years between them.

If there was any fighting going on a truce was declared for three months so that competitors and spectators could travel to and from the games in safety. But none of these would have been women – this was strictly for men only. Anyone discovered there without permission was punished by being thrown to their death off a cliff.

The games were held at Olympia and were part of a religious festival in honour of the chief god Zeus. Poets and artists were involved too, but the main honours went to the athletes. The winners became heroes and were presented with olive garlands on the fifth and last day, which was marked with banquets, processions and sacrifices.

Banned and revived

The games consisted of running, jumping, discus, javelin, boxing and wrestling and they were held for nearly 1200 years until AD 393, when they were banned as being pagan. They were revived one and a half thousand years later by a Frenchman called Pierre de Coubertin. He believed that holding the Olympic Games would help to bring peace to the world and he worked really hard to revive them. In 1896 they started again in Athens.

What do you think?

If the Ancient Greeks could go to Athens this month, which events would they recognise and do you think they would like these Olympic Games better than the original ones?

at Manchester United before leaving for Madrid.

Sold!

Four main bidders battled it out until the hammer went down at £610 amid great excitement from the crowd and to the relief of Mark Sarjant, a governor of Martin Junior School and the successful bidder. He had bought the shirt on behalf of the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children (NSPCC) who will now re-auction it at one of their fundraising events.
