Love, longing and sea-life

By Sheila Armstrong
For the second year running Kazzum are putting on the artsdepot's Christmas play for children. The Little Mermaid promises to be imaginative, exciting and visually stunning with puppets playing some of the characters as well as being used to enhance some of the costumes. Thanks to ultra violet light the puppeteers won't be seen; essentially it's a development of their production at The Bull two years ago.

In a recent interview with THE ARCHER Peter Glanville, artistic director of Kazzum Theatre Company, described their show as a powerful story by Hans Christian Andersen which allows children to engage with both the pathos and humour of the tale. Time Out called it '...a touching story of love and longing with assorted luminous sea-life...enchanted for all ages.' Peter sees it as very much an alternative to panto.

Started 16 years ago, the London-based Kazzum put on last year's successful Pinocchio at the artsdepot. They tour schools, arts centres and festivals and also work in the community with refugees. Peter recently worked as Educational Director with Peter Hall at the Rose Theatre in Kingston.

The Little Mermaid runs from 8-31 December at 1.30pm or 5.30pm. Contact the artsdepot for tickets on 020 8369 5454 or www.artsdepot.co.uk.

Cabaret, old chum?

By Sheila Armstrong
The artsdepot hosted Spice Cabaret in the bar area on Friday 11 November. Tables were full and food was available but it was a large space and failed to create the intimate feeling of a cabaret club.

Music was provided by Pre-Plague, Artisan, Tristan Parkes and Briony Greenhill. Gbolahan Obisesan performed his own poems with a certain flair and even managed to make forgetting his words ok.

Mitchell and Smith: Improvable (yes), who have played at Edinburgh, provided comedy and 'improv'. Tom Allen, who won

Rainbows make their promise

By Diana Cormack

"I promise that I will do my best to love my God and to be kind and helpful." This was the first promise made by members of the Rainbows, a pre-Brownie group set up in September by Maureen Antoinette. Rainbows are the youngest members of Girlguiding UK, and being a Rainbow is all about having lots of fun.

Rainbows look, learn, laugh and love. They look at the wider world and begin to understand that they are part of it through a series of fun activities. They learn in many ways through activities at Rainbow meetings, where they can laugh during games, songs, parties and celebrations as well as make a mess and enjoy life. The concept of love begins through their experiences of caring and sharing at Rainbow meetings.

Before their party to celebrate the promise-making, the girls enjoyed a fun-activity, courtesy of Tu Destino, High Road florists and balloon artists. Androulla Costi and Ros Castro Garcia provided a variety of balloons and carefully guided the group through a creative creature-making session.

After they had made their promise the Rainbows were presented with certificates and Rainbow bags and books by assistant Ivana Sharp and Brownie leader Kundan Clehane.

The Rainbows meet from 4-5pm on Mondays during term time at St Mary's Church Hall, 279 High Road. For further details phone Mrs Antoinette on 020 8883 5654 and visit www.girlguiding.co.uk.

Film festival tackles tough topics

By Louise Wikstrom and Tom Walker

The Jewish Film Festival came to East Finchley in November as the Phoenix Cinema took part for the first time, playing host to six of the festival's films.

The cinema screened two feature films, two short films and two documentaries over three days, focusing on subjects from the Holocaust to the Israel-Palestine conflict.

Tomer Inbar, an Israeli soldier who refused to serve in the occupied territories, also gave a Q&A session after a screening of On the Objection Front, a film about his struggle against public condemnation.

He said: "I'm surprised how many people came to see the film here. The biggest problem in Israel is that people would rather stay at home than see what's happening around them."

Other films shown at the Phoenix included The First Time I Was Twenty, the story of a Jewish misfit in pre-war France, and Wall, a documentary about the everyday lives of people on both sides of the wall between Israel and the West Bank.

Audience member Eva Davis said: "The Jewish Film Festival is needed. It gives the Jewish people a film festival that's relevant to them."

The festival is now in its ninth year, coming to London for the third time. It opened in Leicester Square on 2 November, with most of the films being shown at Haverstock Hill's Screen on the Hill.

RSVP invites you

By Sonia Singham

RSVP - the Retired and Senior Volunteer Programme - is part of Community Service Volunteers, and is for anyone aged 50 plus, with time and energy to spare, who wants to make a positive contribution to the community. Recently I spent a pleasant and informative morning at Finchley Memorial Hospital, with RSVP Partnership Project Organiser Doreen Miles and Duty Co-ordinator Anne Bowyer.

The Hospital Manager at Finchley Memorial was enthusiastic when approached about having a volunteer scheme in the hospital. Some six years on, the partnership between RSVP and the hospital management has proved to be very successful. The scheme uses a holistic approach, where the professionals provide the clinical aspect and the volunteers the social.

Volunteers receive training before starting, and have the full support of staff. After training, they carry out a range of activities on the ward, which are identified for them in advance by the staff, so that nobody's time is wasted.

Finchley Memorial specialises in stroke and orthopaedic rehabilitation, and one of the stroke wards has received a National Certificate of Excellence, with acknowledgement of the contribution made by RSVP.

At present there are approximately 40 volunteers at the hospital, and more are always welcome. There is also a vacancy for the Co-ordinator, who should be as local as possible, and also have transport. Hours of working are flexible, and the salary is paid from a charitable trust.

The scheme has been so successful that it has been proposed to replicate it in two other local hospitals.

For more information about the scheme, please contact Doreen Miles on 020 8449 9468. Doreen is in charge of primary care projects.
