Rise in keyless car theft

By Janet Maitland

Police are advising you to "protect your vehicle like you would your own home" following an 8% rise in car theft in London over the last year. The increase is thought to be down to thieves using more sophisticated methods to steal keyless or remotely controlled vehicles.

There were 6,000 keyless car thefts across London last year, making up 26% of all vehicle theft. In Barnet, 261 cars were stolen this way.

Sabotaging the signal

Keyless vehicle theft can involve simply towing the vehicle away or thieves can smash the driver's side window to break in and then hot-wire the car.

But many thieves now use a device which blocks the radio signals when the car owner uses their electronic key to lock their car. This means the driver has not in fact locked the doors. Once inside, thieves plug a device into the on-board diagnostic port (OBD) which allows them to download the vehicle's electronic information onto a blank key. Because the key is compatible with the car, they can just drive away. The whole process takes just a few seconds.

Police advice

Police advise you to park your vehicle in a well-lit area, a garage, a staffed car park or an area covered by CCTV. You should also use a steering wheel or gear stick lock. In addition, you should consider getting an OBD lock professionally fitted and buying a tracking device to increase the chances of your vehicle being traced if it is stolen. Silver service

Community group EFAB's Silver Service will see cafés and restaurants offering £5 set meal deals to customers over 60 years of age, accompanied by a guest or carer, on Tuesday lunchtimes.

The idea is to help older people who might like to eat out more and socialise, and to encourage business on what is traditionally one of the quietest days for restaurants. Restaurants already confirmed to take part include Barracuda, Big Chef, Costi's, New Local Café and Seasons, and EFAB are encouraging more to get involved.

To take part, diners simply need to turn up on a Tuesday at the times advertised by each restaurant in their windows.

If you run a restaurant or café in East Finchley and would like to take part in this scheme (for free), call Lisa on 07909 998453 or email us@efab.org.uk
