Bogus workmen

We would like to make you aware there are bogus roofers in the area. One of our residents has given £4,900 to a 'company' who have at best done £700 worth of work. This has yet to be verified; the resident could end up paying more money if the work is sub-standard.

An elderly couple had £1,400 in cash stolen from their home by males posing as water board workers and a vulnerable lady had £65 stolen from her flat after letting in a male who said he was checking her water.

Please do pass these warnings on to elderly neighbours as they are generally the ones targeted.

One way

A police operation was carried out by SNT officers as there had been complaints of motorists entering the one-way street Market Place, N2, from East End Road. One person was warned. Please don't let this 'short cut' cost you £100 and three points on your licence.

Moped thefts

Unfortunately the thefts of mopeds across London continue, with East Finchley having seven stolen in April. Four stolen mopeds have been recovered in East Finchley, three locally stolen and one from Essex.

Stolen mopeds are used to mount pavements and steal mobile phones out of people's hands; we have had nine thefts of phones in this way in April on the High Road, Fortis Green and several side roads. If you are using your phone on the street try to not advertise it and be aware of your surroundings.

Bike thefts

We have also had six pedal cycles stolen; one was a very expensive bike. Look out for the regular bike marking and security events at East Finchley station in the first week of each month. Do bring all your cycles and keep them busy.

Right side of the tracks: This detail from an Ordnance Survey map of East Finchley in 1873 shows how the new rail line cut through the area, from East End Station as it was then, under East End Road and Church Lane, and cutting through fields now occupied by the Thomas More Estate and the homes to the west of Long Lane.

Summer festival celebrates the coming of the railway

This year's community festival on Sunday 25 June will be celebrating the 150th anniversary of the railway coming to East Finchley. Everyone is invited to assemble from 11.20am onwards outside Monkey Puzzle, opposite the tube station, to be entertained by the Yiddish marching band and then John Pickering will give a five-minute talk on the history of the railway in East Finchley.

There will be a big group photograph there at 11.50am followed by a short parade to the main stage in Cherry Tree Wood. So go along in railway-themed fancy dress such as Thomas the Tank or Ivor the Engine costumes, make your own or join with others to make a human train and 'do the locomotion'.
